

EUROPEAN SEMINAR 2020

CULTURAL VOLUNTEERING IN MUSEUMS

EL VOLUNTARIADO CULTURAL EN LOS MUSEOS

23 to 25 April

For several decades now, the National Museum of Roman Art of Mérida (MNAR) has been working on Cultural Volunteering. With this experience, the Museum has been awarded with an Erasmus Plus project in 2018-2019, whose results are being evaluated and will be publicized in 2020. It seems, thus, interesting to be able to celebrate in Mérida, at MNAR, the annual ICOM Europe spring Seminar in the year 2020, focused on this theme. In these journeys it is intended to define the role and aspects of the Cultural Volunteering in the Museums of Europe, a very important role by the weight that supposes volunteering as a reflection of the civil society in our museums. For 3 days, the assistants will be able to meet the MNAR and the Heritage of Humanity, to reflect among all on volunteer experiences and contrast their role, each day more relevant, in the society of the 21st century.

Information and registration
icom.seminar2020@gmail.com

National Museum of Roman Art
Mérida, Spain